DAY 2 BANGKOK : MARKET TOUR!

Prepare for a morning of colour, art and passion, as you're driven to the Damnoen Saduak Floating Market in the Ratchaburi province. Harking back to a time when water transport was the primary mode of transportation, the floating market features fresh fruits, flowers, colourful clothing, souvenirs and more along the waterways and on vendor boats. Walk around and check out the many stalls or rent a paddle boat to experience the market from water.

Next stop : Mae Klong railway market. The market is also called; Talad Rom Hoop. Every morning till late, this market springs to life selling a variety of fresh fruits, vegetables, seafood, snacks, clothes and accessories. However, what makes the market unique is the fact that a train will run through it 8 times a day, every day. The action at the railway market begins several minutes before the train is due to pass through the market. As soon as the siren signals the arrival of the train everything stops. Shoppers hop off the tracks, and vendors quickly pack their goods and retract their awnings from the train track as the train passes. This process happens quickly since the awning poles have wheels attached. Once the train is gone, its business as usual as if nothing happened.
